Venus Retrograde 2026 — Full Cycle Analysis for Austin

Frame. Venus is your Lord of the Year for the Age 39 profection into your fourth whole-sign house, Libra. She is the year's amplifier. Roughly seven months remain on that clock, running through your next birthday in May 2027. When she stations, reverses, meets the Sun in cazimi, ingresses backward across a sign boundary, and stations direct again, every one of those moments is a peak signal for you specifically, not a general Venus retrograde. This cycle is unusually loaded for you because she retrogrades back into Libra, the sign of your profected fourth house, and spends the last three weeks of the cycle sitting on the year's own topic. All numbers below come from the ephemeris directly. Nothing is narrated in.

The dates, all in America Chicago local time, Central Daylight Time until 1 November and Central Standard Time thereafter.

Pre shadow begins Monday 31 August 2026 at 9:45 in the morning. Venus reaches 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes moving forward. This is the degree she will eventually station direct on. From this moment forward everything Venus perfects will be walked over three times, forward, back, and forward again.

Venus stations retrograde Saturday 3 October 2026 at 2:16 in the morning at 8 degrees Scorpio 29 minutes.

Cazimi, meaning inferior conjunction with the Sun, Friday 23 October 2026 at 10:44 in the evening at 0 degrees Scorpio 45 minutes. Sun and Venus exact to within one arc second at this moment. This is the heart of the retrograde.

Venus retrogrades back into Libra Sunday 25 October 2026 at 4:10 in the morning, crossing from 0 degrees Scorpio backward into 29 degrees Libra.

Venus stations direct Friday 13 November 2026 at 6:27 in the evening at 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes.

Post shadow ends Tuesday 15 December 2026 at 12:44 in the afternoon. Venus reaches 8 degrees Scorpio 29 minutes moving forward again, the station retrograde degree, and the cycle is fully complete.

The retrograde proper runs 41.7 days. The full shadow, pre through post, runs 106.2 days. That is a full trimester of Venusian material under review.

The retrograde arc. From 8 degrees Scorpio 29 minutes back to 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes. That is 15 degrees 37 minutes of backward motion crossing a sign boundary. Split it in two.

First half of the retrograde, from 3 October through 25 October. Venus reverses through early Scorpio, from 8 degrees back to 0 degrees. This traverses your natal fifth whole-sign house, Scorpio, where your natal Pluto sits at 8 degrees Scorpio 27 minutes. The retrograde station degree is exact-conjunct your natal Pluto within two arc minutes. This is the loudest single fact of the cycle for you personally.

Second half of the retrograde, from 25 October through 13 November. Venus back in Libra, moving from 29 degrees back to 22 degrees. This is your natal fourth house, the profected sign of the year. Venus is now retrograde in the exact house she rules for you this year. She spends nineteen days here reviewing fourth house territory. Home. Ancestry. Foundations. The hidden ground you stand on.

The transits to your natal chart across the whole cycle. Every one of these is a Venus transit and Venus is your Lord of the Year, so they all pass the standing filter automatically.

Pre shadow and approach, late August through September. On 26 August Venus made a trine to your natal Mars at 18 degrees Gemini, and a trine to your natal Chiron at 18 degrees Gemini. This was the first perfection at the pre shadow degree area. If anything meaningful happened around late August involving anger that had to be metabolized, private wounds, or defensive posture, and your Mars Chiron conjunction is a wound around anger and privacy signature, file it. The retrograde will revisit that texture. On 28 August Venus made a sextile to your natal Saturn at 20 degrees Sagittarius in your sixth house of work and health, and a square to your natal Ascendant Descendant axis at 20 degrees Cancer and 20 degrees Capricorn. This lit up your rising set axis and your work signature at once. On 4 September Venus made a sextile to your natal Uranus at 26 degrees Sagittarius. On 27 September, yesterday, you were still inside orb of Venus sextile natal Neptune at 2 degrees Aries in your tenth house, a benefic quiet on the career axis.

Retrograde proper, 3 October through 13 November. On 8 October Venus retrograde will sextile natal Neptune again, the same aspect as 27 September now reviewed by retrograde motion. On 31 October Venus retrograde will sextile natal Uranus again, the second pass of 4 September. Between these two, the sign change into Libra on 25 October, and the cazimi on 23 October.

Post shadow and departure, November through December. On 27 November Venus will sextile natal Uranus for the third and final time, now moving direct. On 14 December Venus will sextile natal Neptune for the third and final time. On 23 December Venus will make a trine to your natal Moon at 15 degrees Cancer, in your first house, your Lord of the Ascendant. This is the departure gift. It is the first and only perfection of Venus to your natal Moon in the entire cycle, and she is now direct, applying, in Pisces by then, running clean. Note this date. On 28 December Venus will trine your natal Ascendant and sextile your natal Descendant, closing the cycle on the rising set axis.

The pattern is a three pass across the sextile Uranus and sextile Neptune configurations, forward, retrograde, forward again, the classic retrograde triple pass signature. Nothing perfects to your natal Sun, Mercury, or Jupiter directly in the cycle. Nothing perfects to your natal Venus itself, which would have been a Lord of the Year to natal Lord of the Year moment if the geometry produced it. It does not this pass.

The three peak moments, in the three part shape you and I use.

Peak one. The retrograde station on your natal Pluto, Saturday 3 October at 2:16 in the morning.

The astrological event. A planet stationing is a planet at zero speed, saturating one degree, traditionally read as loudest. Venus stations retrograde at 8 degrees Scorpio 29 minutes. Your natal Pluto sits at 8 degrees Scorpio 27 minutes. This is a partile conjunction, meaning same sign same degree inside two arc minutes. It cannot be tighter.

Located in your chart. Your natal Pluto is in your fifth whole-sign house, Scorpio, the house of creative work, eros, children, good spirit, and what you make that pleases you. Pluto in the fifth for you is a signature about depth in creative and erotic and generative material. Nothing you generate is casual. The Lord of the Year, in her sign of detriment because Scorpio is opposite her home in Taurus, stops on top of your Pluto for the entire station window. Approximately three days of near zero motion, 1 through 5 October.

So that means. The year's amplifier presses on your fifth house Pluto and holds. Traditionally read, whatever is under construction in the creative and generative side of your practice, the writing, the ritual craft, the fifth house material, gets a Plutonic pressure test from your Lord of the Year. Not necessarily a crisis. More like the version of it that is not real gets stripped, the version that is real gets to stay. Venus in detriment on Pluto is not a benefic standard aspect. It is Venus operating without her usual resources on your most alchemical natal point. Do the work. Do not stage it. If there is something in fifth house territory you have been carrying and it needs to end, this is the window in which it will end without your having to force it.

Peak two. The cazimi, Friday 23 October at 10:44 in the evening, Sun and Venus exact conjunct at 0 degrees Scorpio 45 minutes.

The astrological event. Cazimi means in the heart of the Sun. A planet within about seventeen arc minutes of the Sun, purified and empowered by proximity to the sect light. For an inferior planet, Venus or Mercury, the retrograde cazimi is the inferior conjunction, the exact midpoint of the retrograde arc, when Venus passes between Earth and Sun. This is the reset moment of the cycle. Old Venus dies here. New Venus is born. Traditionally, whatever intention you seed at cazimi carries the shape of the next eighteen month Venus synodic cycle.

Located in your chart. 0 degrees Scorpio 45 minutes sits on the cusp between your fourth house, Libra, and your fifth house, Scorpio, and lands inside the fifth by whole sign but only barely. It is on the seam of ancestry and home and foundations, which is the fourth house and the profected house, and creative work and eros and good spirit, which is the fifth. The Sun Venus conjunction happens as Venus is about to retrograde back into Libra. She crosses the sign boundary roughly twenty nine hours later. So the cazimi is Venus's last moment in Scorpio before returning to Libra proper.

So that means. A hinge moment on the seam between your foundations and your creative eros. If you have a piece of intention work, something devotional, something creative, something about what you want the second half of the profection year to grow, Friday night into Saturday morning 23 into 24 October is the electionally loud window. The cazimi hour itself is 10:44 at night, a night hour, crossroads adjacent by tradition though not midnight itself, with Venus and Sun perfectly merged and ready to be seeded. Traditionally, Venus cazimi elections are for anything about what you love and what you want to keep. Vows. Agreements with self. Commitments to a practice.

Peak three. The direct station, Friday 13 November at 6:27 in the evening, Venus at 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes.

The astrological event. Venus stops retrograde motion, holds for about three days at 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes, then begins forward motion again. Same loudest property as the retrograde station.

Located in your chart. 22 degrees Libra 52 minutes is deep in your fourth whole-sign house, Libra, the profected house of the year. She stations in the sign she rules, in the house she governs for you this year. This is an unusually clean structural moment. The year's Lord of the Year, in her own sign, at station meaning maximum amplitude, inside the year's activated topic house. 22 degrees Libra is within a few degrees of your natal South Node at 10 degrees Libra and your Imum Coeli at 6 degrees Libra, the fourth ten axis, but not tight enough to call a perfection.

So that means. The retrograde ends in the topic of the year. Whatever the retrograde brought up about fourth house material, home, ancestry, roots, the private ground you stand on, completes its inward review at this station. The forward motion resumes from a Libra degree, meaning the second half of the profection year, from 13 November through your birthday next May, inherits whatever was consolidated during retrograde in Libra. This is the more important station for the annual arc, even though the retrograde station on your Pluto is the more spectacular single event.

Aggregate reading. You are entering a Venus retrograde that first, is your Lord of the Year going retrograde. Second, opens by conjoining your natal Pluto exactly. Third, retrogrades back into the sign of your profected fourth house. Fourth, has its cazimi on the fourth fifth house seam. And fifth, stations direct inside the fourth house. There is no coherent way to read this as a background transit. It is the loud event of the annual arc.

Structurally, this is a review and consolidation window for the topic Venus rules for you this year, meaning home, ancestry, hidden foundations, with a compression phase on top of your natal fifth house Pluto, meaning creative and erotic depth. Any Venusian commitment, relational, aesthetic, financial, artistic, devotional, is a candidate to be revisited during this window. Traditional counsel, do not initiate new Venusian bonds during retrograde. Do revisit, review, revise, mend, or release existing ones. The direct station in Libra ending gives the review a graceful landing inside the topic that needed the review in the first place.

Ritual timing note, not instruction. The cazimi window on 23 October is the strongest election in the cycle for anything about value seeded intent. The retrograde station on 3 October is not a good election for beginning. It is a good moment to stop something that needs to stop. The direct station on 13 November is the emergence.

Dates to hold. 3 October, station on your Pluto. 23 October, cazimi at 0 Scorpio. 25 October, retrograde back into Libra, ingress into your profected sign. 13 November, direct station in your fourth house. 23 December, Venus trine your natal Moon, the cycle's departure gift on your Lord of the Ascendant.

Saturn’s mark, closing the file.
